Hello Polks...It's auction time again. We think we have put together one of the most unusual collection of glass for this auction that you may ever see. We have here some of the world's most beautiful glass from awesome American, to elegant European, to plenty of unreported interesting Indian, to some rare attractive Australian carnival glass. Nona Glass Taylor is down sizing her current collection and has some great items to be sold. The never before seen Indian glass came traight from India and the European and Australian glass flew in also to make this sale truly international.

If you are looking for unique and rarely seen items, this is the auction for you. One last thing....for those of you who may not be familiar with foreign carnival glass, the majority of the bases have been ground by their manufacturers, thus leaving roughness on it's feet and bases. For you absentee bidders, you are buying this glass with this in mind. Please inquire as we are very honest about the condition of the glass.

Special thanks to Glen & Steve Thistlewood and Sherry & Dick Betker for help with identifying and naming the glass. So as grandma may say to you when she takes you up to the dusty attic or down to the dirty basement to search for antique glass..." Excuse the dirt honey, but let's
